

William J. Judge, JD, LL. M.
River Forest, Illinois
(708) 334-8010

Bill Judge is an attorney and educator who, for the past 33 years, has concentrated on research, consultation, litigation assistance, and management training surrounding the legal issues of substance abuse in the workplace and in our nation's schools.

Bill is a Member of Drug Screening Compliance Institute, LLC., which is an online research, training, and consulting service. DSCI provides customers with state, federal, and issue-specific drug and alcohol testing information, policies, procedures, and training

A ten-year instructor for the American College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine MRO course and a past advisor to the American Society of Addiction Medicine, Bill has lectured extensively on school and workplace substance abuse issues. From 2002 to 2007 Bill was an invited participant in regional student drug testing summits on behalf of the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy. In addition, he was an invited panelist at the 1988 White House Conference for a Drug Free America and was involved in Railway Labor Executives' Association vs. Skinner, (1989) the first workplace drug testing case decided by the United States Supreme Court.

Bill has edited and written several publications, including a reference manual for the motor carrier industry entitled, "Drug Testing: Motor Carrier Compliance Manual," published by J.J. Keller & Associates. Other publications include: "Omnidex," "Part 40 Merged," and his latest workbook, co-authored with attorney Tom Eden, "Doing It Right: DRUG FREE SCHOOL TESTING."

In 1995, Bill co-founded Info-Lab, Inc. and managed Workplace Health Co-Op, a substance abuse program administrator. During his tenure with Info-Lab, Inc., Bill co-owned and operated Info-Meth, a DHHS-certified laboratory located in Peoria, IL.

Bill provides risk management assessments, research services, training, and consulting regarding drug-test policy development for employers and labor/management committees. He is also a past Co-Chairman of the Illinois State Chamber's Drug-Free Illinois Workplace Program.

On a personal note, Bill resides in the Chicago area with his wife who is also an attorney. They have two children who are both lawyers.
